A WHOLE NEW EXPERIENCE AT DETROITSHOCK.COM

OVERVIEW

During the season, updated team information is available by contacting Shock Director of Public Relations John Maxwell, at 248-377-0132 or Media Relations Assistant Jackie Begin at 248-377-8626. The Shock organization welcomes media coverage and will make every effort to accommodate any related needs.

CREDENTIALS

Official Shock media passes (or WNBA passes when appropriate) are required for admission to Shock games and for admission to media facilities inside The Palace. These passes are working passes and are intended for the use of working media members only. For credential information, please contact Jackie Begin. REQUESTS MUST BE MADE PRIOR TO NOON ON GAME DAY. Please make certain all requests for credentials are confirmed by the Public Relations Department prior to arriving at the arena. Credentials may be obtained 2.5 hours prior to each game at the press gate, located outside the loading dock media entrance in the southeast corner of the arena. Credentials must be visibly worn at all times and are non-transferable.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Accredited photographers will be permitted courtside in The Palace and will be stationed in one of two quadrants: either the west side of the basket stanchion on the north end of the floor or the east side of the basket stanchion on the north end of the floor. ABSOLUTELY NO TRIPODS ALLOWED. Photographers must be seated stationary, at least four feet behind the baseline at all times. Photographers are not permitted on the court at any time during the game and cannot shoot from public walkways or gathering areas. Orders for strobe lights or credentials should be requested through the Shock PR Office. Photo credentials will be issued in the same manner as other credentials, although requests should be submitted by the photo editor. Official Shock photographers' passes allow admission to The Palace, the media room and to the locker rooms. The recommended film speed under all conditions is ASA 400. Recommended films are: Kodak Tri-X (for black and white), Kodachrome 400 (for color negative film for prints) and Ektachrome 400 (for color transparency slide film). When photographing events on the floor (lighting tends to be less in the stands), the recommended exposure is: 1/125 of a second at F 5.6 for evening or nighttime events. Equipment not needed during the game must be stored off court. One additional camera can be stored either beside or directly behind the photographer. Credentials for cinematographers should be requested through the Shock PR Office and are available on a game-by-game basis. With credentials, cinematographers will be allowed courtside.

RUBBER LENS SHADES

In order to reduce the risk of injury to players, rubber lens shades are now required for all still photographers, broadcasters, news and entertainment video and film crews who are authorized to shoot WNBA game action. Any additional light sources must be either removed or covered with bubble wrap.

Rubber lens covers are available by contacting:

Bruce A. Kwitny
Robert's Distributors, Inc.
255 S. Meridian Street
Indianapolis, IN 46225
(800) 726-5544

PARKING

Members of the media who have been issued credentials will be granted parking privileges in press parking area, located on the south side of the arena. Entrance to the arena parking lot for media members will be through the southern-most entrance off Lapeer Road.

MEDIA WORKROOM

The media workroom is located on the west side of the building, directly across from the Shock locker room. The room is open 2.5 hours prior to tip-off and features comfortable work areas for your convenience. Telephone and fax service is available, as well as game notes, media guides, statistics, post-game quotes and out-of-town scores. A meal and beverages are also provided for working media members, and admission is by official Shock passes. Press credentials are required for admission into the media room. Should you need any additional assistance or service, please do not hesitate to ask Jackie Begin.

PRE- AND POST-GAME INTERVIEWS

In accordance with WNBA policy, both the Shock and visiting locker rooms will be open to accredited media members for a 45 minute period prior to each game (8:00-8:45 for a 7:30 p.m. game) and 10 minutes following the conclusion of each game. It is recommended that any interview lasting longer than five minutes in duration be arranged in advance through the Shock PR department (any live television pre- or post-game interviews should also be arranged in advance through the PR department). ONLY working media members with valid credentials will be admitted to the locker room. ABSOLUTELY NO AUTOGRAPHS ALLOWED DURING MEDIA ACCESS PERIOD.

INTERVIEW ROOM

Detroit Shock Head Coach Bill Laimbeer will meet the media in the West hospitality room, down the hall from the Shock locker room, approximately 10 minutes after the conclusion of each game. The Shock's locker room will be open to the media immediately after Laimbeer's post-game press conference.

GAME NOTES, STATISTICS & STATISTICIANS

Game notes and statistics are available in the Shock media room 2 hours prior to each game. Statistics are distributed to the working media following each half. Post-game quotes and notes are distributed as quickly as possible following the conclusion of each game. Local statisticians are available to assist visiting television and radio broadcasters and can be arranged by contacting the Shock Public Relations Department several days in advance. Once a request is made, the statisticians must be compensated whether they are used or not.

FAX SERVICE

The Shock will provide complementary fax service to members of the working media following each game.

AUTOGRAPHS

SEEKING AUTOGRAPHS OR SOUVENIR ITEMS FROM PLAYERS OR COACHES IS STRICTLY PROHIBITED AND SUBJECT TO FORFEITURE OF CREDENTIAL.

2006 DETROIT SHOCK MEDIA GUIDE

LEADERSHIP | BILL DAVIDSON | MANAGING PARTNER

From June 2003 to June 2004, Detroit Pistons Managing Partner William Davidson became the first owner in sports history to win championships with four different professional leagues. The Pistons returned to glory, winning the organization's third championship in franchise history, the Tampa Bay Lightning won their first Stanley Cup, the Shock won their first WNBA Championship, and the Tampa Bay Storm won their fifth ArenaBowl Championship. Recognized as one of the most successful owners in the NBA for over 30 years, Davidson can be credited for a majority of the organization's success. Under his direction, the Pistons have been considered one of the league's elite franchises for more than a decade and his young Shock franchise is positioned for long-term success.

The Shock joined the Washington Mystics as one of the first two expansion teams in the WNBA in 1998 and the team finished with a 17-13 record in its inaugural season. The Shock also made the WNBA playoffs in only their second season. The future of the Shock is bright under former Pistons "Bad Boy" Bill Laimbeer. In 2003 the Shock recorded a league-best

25-9 record and were crowned WNBA Champions by defeating the Los Angeles Sparks in the WNBA Finals. The Shock set a WNBA attendance record (22,076) in Game 3 of the Finals and was the first professional team since 1890 to go from "worst-to-first."

The Pistons and Davidson's Palace Sports and Entertainment organization are moving into the future with innovative ideas and a plan for progress. The addition of the Detroit Shock of the WNBA to Palace Sports and Entertainment represents his commitment toward the sports fan in Detroit. Davidson continues to keep the team at the league's forefront with such amenities as a state-of-the-art practice facility, solely designed for the Shock and Pistons. Players are able to use the facilities all winter while working on off-season conditioning goals.

Davidson became one of just a few multi-sport, major players in 1999, when, along with Palace Sports and Entertainment partners the late David Hermelin and the late Robert Sosnick, he purchased the Tampa Bay Lightning of the NHL. Davidson's vision for duplicating the success of the Pistons and Shock and their home, the Palace of Auburn Hills, came to fruition in 2003-04 when the Lightning hoisted the Stanley Cup in front of a capacity crowd at the St. Pete Times Forum. In August 2005, Davidson purchased the Asheville Tourists of the South Atlantic League, a minor league affiliate to the Colorado Rockies.

In 1988-89, the Pistons began play in The Palace, a state-of-the-art arena built with Davidson's financial support: a facility, which when combined with the Pistons, forms the foundation of his entertainment business. With the busiest amphitheater in the country, DTE Music Theatre, purchased in 1990, Palace Sports and Entertainment now has the ability to bring the best in summer entertainment to its clientele. The company added management of the Meadow Brook Music Festival in the summer of '94, further developing the entertainment division of Palace Sports and Entertainment. This April, PS&E extended its reach in the outdoor amphitheatre business by entering into an agreement to manage the Jerome Duncan Theatre in Sterling Heights, MI.

The Pistons have played in the postseason in 15 of the past 20 years, including nine of the past 11 seasons. Davidson acquired the Detroit Pistons in 1974 from the late Fred Zollner, who founded the team in Fort Wayne, Indiana in the 1940s. Zollner later moved the franchise to Detroit before the 1957-58 season. The Pistons have come a long way since then and in February of 2005 were named the top major league sports franchise by ESPN The Magazine.

Interested in a wide variety of sports, Davidson is one of the most knowledgeable heads of an NBA franchise. He can usually be found sitting courtside at all Pistons home games, and has studied many players and coaches in the league. Davidson's athletic history dates back many years and has continued alongside his business career. He was a high school and college trackman and played football in the Navy during World War II. Davidson was an inaugural inductee into the Jewish Sports Hall of Fame.

MANAGING PARTNER | BILL DAVIDSON | LEADERSHIP

The Pistons' majority owner likes success and has known it in his business interests. That's why the success of the Pistons and Shock comes as no surprise to those who are aware of Davidson's ability to manage people. His secret is simple: hire competent managers and place the responsibility on them. Educated in Business Law, Davidson received a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration from the University of Michigan and earned a Juris Doctor's Degree from Wayne State University.

After three years, Davidson gave up his law practice to take over a wholesale drug company. He rescued the company from bankruptcy and turned it around in three years. After this success, he did the same with a surgical supply company. The next step was to take over the Guardian Glass Company, the family business, pay off all debts and head it into the profitable direction the company now enjoys. Today, Guardian Industries remains the flagship of his corporate interests. Its world headquarters are located on the same property as The Palace and the Pistons practice facility in Auburn Hills, Michigan.

Davidson's previous track record has paved the way for the Pistons, The Palace, and DTE Music Theatre. His formula for success, which turned the Pistons around and made The Palace one of the top arenas in the world, carries over into the DTE Music Theatre, now considered one of the top amphitheaters in the country. Davidson's management talents are continually on display in NBA circles, where he served as Chairman of the Board of Governors and has been active on several committees, including the one that selected former NBA Commissioner Lawrence O'Brien in 1975.

Davidson's involvement in the Detroit community is well documented. In 1997 he was honored for his lifelong philanthropic efforts, locally, nationally, and internationally, by the Council of Michigan Foundations. The same year, he was listed in a New York Times article as one of America's most generous donors. Davidson was also one of the "founding fathers" who originated the Pistons/Palace Foundation, a charitable vehicle that has donated more than $8 million dollars in cash and merchandise since 1989. In January 1995 the foundation worked in conjunction with the City of Detroit's Parks and Recreation Department to establish the Partnership to Adopt and Renovate Parks for Kids (PARK) Program. The program provides for restoration of Detroit parks, basketball courts, baseball diamonds, running tracks, and playground equipment.

In 1992, he donated $30 million to Michigan's School of Business Administration. The grant to establish the William Davidson Institute will provide assistance in a special program to help develop market economies throughout the world. He has also endorsed the William Davidson Graduate School of Jewish Education at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in New York, and the American Technion Society to establish the world's first educational institution entirely dedicated to the international management of technology-based companies at the Technion-Israel Institute of Technology.

The Pistons ownership group includes Legal Counsel Oscar Feldman, and Advisory Board Members Warren Coville, Bud Gerson, Dorothy Gerson, Ann Newman and William Wetsman.

Davidson and his wife, Karen, reside in Bloomfield Hills. He has two children, Ethan and Marla.

LEADERSHIP | TOM WILSON | PRESIDENT

Palace Sports and Entertainment enjoyed unprecedented success during 2003-2004, becoming the first sports organization to win three major championship titles (NBA Championship, Stanley Cup, WNBA Championship) in a 12-month period. Now in his 9th season as president of the Detroit Shock and 17th as president of Palace Sports and Entertainment, Inc., Tom Wilson ensures stability within the organization as it continues along at its progressive pace. During Wilson's 28-year tenure as the team's top business executive, the Pistons have evolved into one of the best marketed and most highly valued teams in professional sports. Wilson has also recently made key moves that have significantly improved the Shock both on and off the floor. A re-commitment to the franchise in October 2003 and the hiring of former Detroit Pistons "Bad Boy" Bill Laimbeer as Head Coach/Director of Player Personnel in late June 2002 resulted in a worst-to-first turnaround. Wilson made the call to relieve Greg Williams of his duties on June 19, 2002 after the team got off to an 0-10 start. The Shock won eight of their last 16 games that year and continued the pace in 2003 by winning the Eastern Conference regular season title and capturing Detroit's first WNBA Playoff berth since 1999.

In 1998, Wilson was responsible for bringing PS&E and the state of Michigan its only women's professional sports franchise, the WNBA's Detroit Shock. Wilson's efforts were showcased immediately as the 1998 expansion Shock posted the highest winning percentage ever (.567) for a major American professional sports league expansion team (including WNBA/NBA, MLB, NFL, NHL). The Shock continued to impress during its sophomore season, finishing with the Eastern Conference's #2 seed, becoming the first expansion team ever to qualify for the WNBA playoffs.

Elevating Wilson to the presidency in 1992, Managing Partner William Davidson stressed the importance of building a structure within the organization that will have a long-term effect.

Since joining the Pistons in 1977, Wilson has handled all business aspects of not only the Detroit Pistons, but also of Palace Sports and Entertainment, which includes The Palace of Auburn Hills, DTE Music Theatre, Jerome Duncan Ford Theatre, Tampa Bay Lightning and Detroit Shock. He was named Employee of the Year for 1990 by Guardian Industries, the Pistons' and The Palace's parent company. The award marked the first time Guardian Industries gave the honor to an employee outside of its direct glass manufacturing and fabrication divisions.

The Palace was designed largely around Wilson's input and he was responsible for staffing and developing organizational philosophies of the arena. Wilson's ability to create a family atmosphere among his staff and guests has produced entertainment at its best. Enhancing the Palace experience, The Cingular Club was introduced in October 2001 and the Traverse Bay Entertainment Suite Level, which opened in September 2002, offering fans additional entertainment opportunities before and after every Palace event. The newest addition to The Palace in 2005-06 is the exclusive Sterling Bank and Trust Club and courtside lounges on the event level of the building. These new areas allow guest to experience unique views and exciting entertainment possibilities at each Palace event.

Under his direction, The Palace has earned Arena of the Year awards nine times by Performance magazine, beginning with New Venue of the Year award (1988). The Palace has also held the prestigious Arena of the Year accolade eight times. The Palace was named Arena of the Year by Pollstar after receiving that publication's Best New Concert Venue honors for

PRESIDENT | TOM WILSON | LEADERSHIP

1988. Wilson's direction was instrumental in the acquisition and renovation of DTE Music Theatre as well, and he remains actively involved in the operational phase and the ongoing improvement of the facility.

DTE Energy Music Theatre has been named the nation's busiest, top-grossing or highest attended outdoor venue by Amusement Business in each of its 14 summers under Wilson's guidance. It has also been nominated Amphitheatre of the Year in each of the 13 years of Palace Sports and Entertainment ownership. In 1994, Palace Sports and Entertainment assumed management of Meadow Brook Music Festival on the grounds of Oakland University in Rochester, Michigan. In April 2005, Palace Sports and Entertainment extended its reach by entering into an agreement to manage the Jerome Duncan Theatre in Sterling Heights, MI.

As executive administrator of Palace Sports and Entertainment, Wilson is ultimately responsible for the day-to-day operations of its sales, advertising, marketing, and broadcasting departments. Wilson directed the company's purchase of the National Hockey League's Tampa Bay Lightning along with the leasehold rights to its arena, the Ice Palace. LEADERSHIP | BILL LAIMBEER | HEAD COACH

Bill Laimbeer's name sparks one thing in the collective mind of the Detroit community – a fierce competitor with the desire to win and achieve success in whatever he is involved with. As the leader of the 2003 WNBA Champions, he played an integral part in turning a professional sports team from the worst team in the league to the best team in a single season. During the 2005 campaign, the Shock overcame numerous obstacles to make the playoffs for the third straight season, clinching a post-season berth on the second to last day of the regular season.

Laimbeer—2003 WNBA Coach of the Year—has the highest winning percentage of any coach in Shock history entering the 2006 season. He led Detroit to what was at the time the most wins and best winning percentage of any Eastern Conference team in the history of the WNBA during the 2003 season (.735, 25-9, previous best was Cleveland in 2001, 22-10, .687). Under his guidance, the team also made the biggest improvement in the win column of any WNBA team in history (+16). Laimbeer was not only instrumental in leading the Shock to the 2003 WNBA Championship, but he also made the personnel decisions that gave the Shock 2003 WNBA Rookie of the Year Cheryl Ford and 2003 WNBA Finals MVP Ruth Riley. Just prior to the end 2005 regular season, Laimbeer was able to bring the all-time leading scorer in U.S. women's professional basketball history, guard Katie Smith, to Detroit.

Laimbeer was named head coach of the Detroit Shock June 19th, 10 games into the 2002 WNBA season. Laimbeer, the third head coach in the Shock's eight-year history, inherited an 0-10 team and guided them to a strong 8-7 finish to close out the 2002 WNBA campaign. Detroit improved in many statistical categories due to Laimbeer's hard-nosed approach and uncanny ability to gain the instant respect of his players. After taking the helm, the Shock's rebounding average improved from 27.8 rpg to 36.4 rpg and their point production jumped from 64.4 ppg to 66.8 ppg within the 2002 season. Detroit also took more high percentage shots as their three-point attempts went down from 17.4 to 8.6 per game.

Laimbeer also pushed the team to play more aggressively on the offensive end, improving free throw opportunities to 22.2 attempts per game in their last 22 games compared to 16.3 in their first 10 contests. Laimbeer oversees Detroit's basketball staff, its roster development and all player acquisitions, while also coaching the team on the floor.

Laimbeer joined the Shock prior to the '02 season as a special consultant, assisting the Shock organization in marketing and ticket sales, as well as providing an experienced sounding board for the coaching staff. As a recognized name in the Detroit area, Laimbeer provides instant credibility to every Shock initiative, on and off the court. He brings hands-on NBA experience, from both a basketball and a business perspective.

He began his NBA career after being drafted in the third round (65th overall) by Cleveland in the 1979 draft. He was traded from Cleveland to Detroit along with Kenny Carr in exchange for Phil Hubbard, Paul Mokeski, and future first and second round draft choices on February 16, 1982. A four-time NBA All-Star, Laimbeer was known as one of the nastiest members of the famed "Bad Boys" of the late 1980's that won back-to-back NBA Championships in 1989 and 1990.

The Pistons' franchise leader in total rebounds (9,430), Laimbeer averaged 12.9 ppg, 9.7 rpg and 2.0 apg in 1,068 games during his 14-year NBA career with Cleveland and Detroit. In 113 playoff games with the Pistons, he averaged 12.0 ppg, 9.7 rpg and 1.7 apg. He was the NBA's leading rebounder in 1985-86 with 13.1 rpg. Laimbeer announced his retirement from the NBA on December 1, 1993. Recognized as one of the all-time best centers in franchise history, on February 4, 1995 he became one of six Pistons players to have their number retired.

A fierce competitor, Laimbeer finished his career with a 580-434 (.572) overall regular season record as a member of the Pistons. Preparing himself for an eventual coaching career, he was able to learn from Chuck Daly, the all-time winningest coach in Pistons history (467-271, .633, regular season and 71-42, .628, playoffs).

As a member of the Notre Dame Fighting Irish, he helped the squad to the Final Four in the 1978-79 season and was eliminated by the eventual National Champion Michigan State Spartans in the finals of the Mideast Region during his senior season of 1979. He graduated later that year with a degree in Economics.

During the off-season, Laimbeer acts as the Pistons television analyst for the fifth straight year, working alongside George Blaha for all WB-20 telecasts.

A native of Boston, MA, Laimbeer's interests off the court include golfing and hunting. He and his wife, Chris, have two children, Eric and Kerriann.

Cheryl Reeve
Assistant Coach

Cheryl Reeve will be entering her first season as assistant coach for the Detroit Shock. Reeve is involved with planning defensive strategies and player development, concentrating on guard development and perimeter play. They followed in 2002, with another 18-14 mark and their second straight appearance in the postseason.

Following the 2002 campaign, Donovan left to become the head coach of the Seattle Storm, and Dan Hughes and the Cleveland Rockers hired Reeve away from Charlotte. The Rockers advanced to the playoffs that year, but in the offseason ownership decided to cease operation of the team making Reeve a coaching free agent. She rejoined the Sting staff for the 2004 and 2005 seasons.

Prior to joining the WNBA, Reeve served as head coach at Indiana State from 1995-1999. She improved the team's record each season, and led the squad to its first postseason berth in 20 years following the 1998-1999 campaign. The Colonials posted five 20-win seasons, captured three Atlantic 10 Conference Championships and appeared in four NCAA tournaments during Reeve's stint at GW.

As a player at La Salle, Reeve led the nationally-ranked Explorers to a 25-5 record in 1987-1988. She was named All-Metro Atlantic Conference and was an All-Big 5 selection as a senior. Reeve holds the school record for most games started (110) and ranks fourth on La Salle's career assist leader board (420).

Reeve excelled athletically and academically at La Salle, graduating with a degree in computer science/management information systems. A Rhodes Scholar nominee, Reeve received both a MAAC Scholar-Athlete Post Graduate Award and a NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship in 1988. PLAYERS | HOW THE 2006 SHOCK WERE ASSEMBLED

WNBA DRAFT

PLAYER	DATE	BACKGROUND
Zane Teallane	April 5, 2006	In the third round in the 2006 WNBA Draft, the Shock selected the 6-7 center with the 35th overall pick. Teallane was named Mid-Continent player of the year in her junior and senior seasons and ranked third in the nation in blocks with 4.2 per game.
Kara Braxton	April 16, 2005	With the seventh pick in the 2005 WNBA Draft, a 6-6 center from Georgia with unlimited potential fell to the Shock. Braxton missed her senior season with the Lady Bulldogs due to her pregnancy - she gave birth to a son in January of '05. She set a Shock record by scoring 18 points in her rookie debut.
Cheryl Ford	April 25, 2003	The Shock had the best opportunity to grab the No. 1 overall pick in 2003 by virtue of their league-worst record from the previous year, but the ping-pong balls gave them the third pick which they used to select the eventual 2003 Rookie of the Year.
Swin Cash	April 19, 2002	Detroit tied for the worst record in the league in 2001, but "lost out" in the Draft Lottery settling for the No. 2 pick. They used that selection on a two-time NCAA Champion from UConn, who has since become a two-time WNBA All-Star and won an Olympic gold medal (2004).
Deanna Nolan	April 20, 2001	Following a 14-18 regular season record, the Shock held the sixth overall pick in the 2001 WNBA Draft. They used that selection on a 5-10 guard out of Georgia who has since increased her scoring output in each of her WNBA campaigns, and earned her second All-Star nod in 2005.

WNBA DISPERSAL DRAFT

PLAYER	DATE	BACKGROUND
Ruth Riley	April 24, 2003	When the Miami Sol and the Portland Fire disbanded in 2002, the league held a special draft to disperse the players from the two rosters. The Shock held the first pick in the dispersal draft by virtue of having the league's worst record from the previous year, and used the pick to select 6-5 center Ruth Riley. Riley was named 2003 WNBA Finals MVP, and was named to her first All-Star team in 2005.

FREE AGENT ACQUISITIONS

PLAYER	DATE	BACKGROUND
Ryan Coleman	April 5, 2006	Was signed to the Detroit Shock training camp roster after the 2006 Draft. A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, she is a two-time Kodak/WBCA Honorable Mention All-American and scored in double figures in all 25 games in her senior season. Coleman also became just the second player in MAC history to record 1,500 points, 600 rebounds, 300 assists and 200 steals in a career.
Sabrina Palie	April 2006	Born in France, Palie played with Priolo of the Italian Pro League for the past two seasons. She was the top scorer for the 2003-04 season and was the top scorer for her team, Reims in the French Pro League for the 2002-03 season.
Marina Karpunina	April 2006	A native of Russia, Karpunina played for Spartak EuroCup team in 2006 averaging 3.5 points, 3.2 rebounds, and 0.7 assists per game. The guard also played for the Russian National Team that finished second in the EuroBasket League in 2005.
Kedra Holland-Corn	March 1, 2006	A member of Detroit's World Championship team in 2003, Laimbeer brought Holland-Corn back into the fold to shore up the point guard spot in his rotation and give the Shock an additional scoring threat from the perimeter.
Irina Osipova	February 9, 2005	Signed with Detroit as a free agent on February 9, 2005, but was placed on the suspended list for the season due to pregnancy. Osipova, who won a bronze medal in the 2004 Olympic Games with Russia, recently returned to the court when she joined Spartak in the EuroCup League.

TRADES

PLAYER	DATE	BACKGROUND
Jacqueline Batteast	April 5, 2006	Selected by the Minnesota Lynx in the second round of the 2005 WNBA Draft, Batteast appeared in eight games with the Lynx after missing most the season due to injury. During the 2006 Draft, the Shock sent their second round pick, Ambrosia Anderson, to the Lynx in exchange for Batteast.
Katie Smith	July 30, 2005	After coveting Smith for two years, Bill Laimbeer finally put together a package that traded her away from the Minnesota Lynx. In exchange for Chandi Jones, Stacey Thomas and Detroit's first round pick in the 2006 WNBA Draft, the Shock received Smith and the Lynx' second round pick in 2006.
Plenette Pierson	June 29, 2005	The Shock sent its second round pick in the 2006 WNBA Draft and Andrea Stinson to the Mercury in exchange for Pierson. With Swin Cash missing one-third of the season and continuing to come back from knee surgery, Pierson infused the lineup with a controlled aggression on both ends of the floor.

Detroit Shock community programming focuses on Detroit, metro Detroit area and Southeast Michigan.

DETROIT SHOCK STEPS TO SUCCESS

The Detroit Shock Steps To Success program emphasizes strategies for young people to use to help them make positive choices and incorporate a positive value system in their everyday lives. The teen forum provides a different environment for young women and men to talk about issues that are pertinent to their success. The panel format allows the audience to ask questions based to the topics discussed by the moderator (usually a media personality). Panels are typically made up of at least two Shock players, metro Detroit community leaders, government officials, and media personalities. The wide range of experience from panelists allows the audience to hear from people who have taken many different, but equally successful career paths. The program allows participants to inquire about and touch upon important issues in their lives both on and away from the playing surface. Previous event topics have included: Setting and Reaching Goals, Women in the Workforce, Self-Image, Careers, and Time Management. A favorite of the Shock players due to its personal nature and ability to hit home with so many young women and men, Steps To Success continues to grow and branch out into new directions. 2006 will feature three in-arena Steps to Success Teen Forums that will occur prior to home games, all featuring Shock players or coaches. The game day forums allow for participants to meet and speak with members of the Shock organization face-to-face about real life issues prior to enjoying first class basketball and entertainment. Bringing more forums to game days allows for hundreds more fans to experience the atmosphere at The Palace. In-Arena Steps to Success events provide a wonderful mentoring opportunity for corporate, community and media partners.

WNBA BE SMART – BE FIT – BE YOURSELF

WNBA Be Smart - Be Fit - Be Yourself encourages teens and women of all ages to learn more about their bodies and the importance of physical fitness through programs related to health, fitness, nutrition and self-esteem. Programming inspires teens and women to get started on "being fit" through small changes in their daily regimen. The content of the program is communicated and delivered through a Fitness Journal, a "Team" of Spokespeople, National and Local grassroots events, promotion and a mobile tour. 2006 Detroit Shock programming will feature four in-arena Be Smart, Be Fit, Be Yourself Clinics that will occur either pre-game or post-game, all featuring Shock players or coaches. The in-arena clinics allow for participants to experience the Shock face-to-face via community programming and on the court with quality basketball and entertainment. Bringing more clinics to game days allows for hundreds more fans to experience the atmosphere at The Palace. One Be Fit Community Picnic will take place this spring/summer featuring Shock players, encouraging families and children to stay active and spend time with each other.

BREAST HEALTH AWARENESS

For nine years, the WNBA Breast Health Awareness program has focused on generating awareness and educating women about breast cancer in addition to raising funds for the initiative. The WNBA and its teams have raised nearly $2 million to aid in the fight against breast cancer.

READ TO ACHIEVE

Read to Achieve is a year-round, league-wide initiative supported by NBA, WNBA and NBAL teams that promotes the values of reading and on-line literacy and encourages families and adults to read regularly with young children. The program includes thousands of reading time-outs, the donation of books and literacy materials, and the creation of Reading and Learning Centers and Reading Corners throughout the world. The Shock will renovate a resource center in May 2006, marking the first time that the WNBA franchise has done so. The center will be the NBA/WNBA league-high 10th resource center that the Pistons and Shock have been involved in.

National and local All-Star Reading Teams have been formed consisting of current and former NBA and WNBA players and other members of the NBA and WNBA family, who promote reading efforts through in-arena events, public service announcements and school and community appearances throughout the year.

The entire Detroit Shock team, including Head Coach Bill Laimbeer, 2004 Olympic Gold Medal Winners Swin Cash and Ruth Riley and Assistant Coach Rick Mahorn, joined Shockwave, Zap and Shock In-Arena Host Jonathan on Wednesday, May 18th from 9:30 – 11 a.m. for the 2005 Read to Achieve literacy tip-off at Woodland Elementary in Troy.

"The Shock loved visiting the students at Woodland Elementary and stressing the importance of reading," said Swin Cash, Shock team captain. "Ruth (Riley) and I each wrote a children's book in the off-season and were able to share them with the children. Combined with being able to act out the essay stories students wrote with the very talented comedy troupe was a blast."

OVERTIME ZAP & SHOCKWAVEZAP

Used to spending time in the outback of Australia, ZAP had a life changing moment in the Spring of 1998. While resting among the Aborigines, this wild dingo was mysteriously zapped up into the air by electrical shock waves and brought through electrical currents to The Palace of Auburn Hills. Not knowing what he would do, ZAP soon learned that he would be adopted by the WNBA's Detroit Shock as the team mascot and made his debut at the franchise's first game, June 13, 1998. Since then, ZAP has taken to the idea of entertaining fans and is entering his ninth year with the Shock.

Zap performs at every Shock home game. Following in the organization's commitment to the community ZAP performs at birthday parties, parades, and other public or private events in the community. Raised in the Outback in Australia, ZAP learned many magical powers while he spent his days and nights in the bush. And while the Shock hope to perform magic on the court, ZAP has vowed to put smiles on the faces of everyone he meets.

ZAP has had a busy eight years with the Shock. He performed at the WNBA's inaugural 1999 All-Star game in New York, as well as the 2000 NBA All-Star weekend in Oakland, California, the 1999 NBA Hall of Fame Game in Hartford, Connecticut and even earned a video clip at the 2000 ESPY Awards. During his tenure with the Shock, this dingo has performed with Tyra Banks, Kid Rock, and was even knocked out by Indiana Pacers guard Reggie Miller.

When not performing, ZAP enjoys hanging out with his Palace mascot friend HOOPER of the Pistons. His hobbies include watching the Crocodile Hunter, ESPN, the Discovery Channel and reruns of Captain Kangaroo. His favorite foods include shrimp-on-the-barbie, steak, nachos, and popcorn.
